A compiler for Seal

Sep. 2020 – Jan. 2021

C++, Flex-Bison Personal Project

Seal is a simple procedure-oriented language similar but much simpler to C.

- The compiler will translate Seal programs into x86-64 assembly program.
- Seal only has four data types: int, float, String, and boolean.
- All variables in Seal are stored in 8-byte size.
- No array or struct in Seal.
- All variables have to be declared before all function calls.
